RUTGERS ACADEMIC LEADERSHIP PROGRAM (RUALP)

Center for Organizational Development and Leadership
www.odl.rutgers.edu/alp

The Rutgers Academic Leadership Program (RUALP) provides Rutgers-NB Deans and Chairs with a forum for disseminating information on policies and practices, addressing theoretical and practical problems of academic leadership, sharing effective practices across disciplines, and creating a collaborative network of administrators and faculty members charged with providing academic leadership for the institution

The program is sponsored by ODL; the Graduate School-NB; Office of the Chancellor, Rutgers-NB; Office of Senior Vice President for Academic Affairs; and the School of Communication and Information.

Dr. Barbara Bender, Associate Dean, Graduate School-NB; and Dr. Brent Ruben, Distinguished Professor of Communication and Executive Director of ODL serve as program co-chairs. For further information, contact ODL at ALP@odl.rutgers.edu or Dr. Bender at bbender@grad.rutgers.edu.

Rutgers is a member of the Big Ten Academic Alliance. We are actively engaged with the BTAA in areas related to leadership development, among others, and our affiliation provides a variety of opportunities for Rutgers faculty and academic administrators. For further information on BTAA activities related to leadership development go to <https://www.btaa.org/projects/leadership/alp/introduction>.

Breakfast Discussion Series

The Breakfast Discussion Series provides academic administrators the opportunity to discuss topics of local and national interest, explore a variety of common leadership concerns, and enhance relationships and information sharing with colleagues from various disciplines across the university.

Past Breakfast Series Topics Include:
